Information For Teens On Their Healthcare

Teens aged 12 to 18 years of age working with PULSE (Persons United Limiting Substandards and Errors in Healthcare) have produced a series of brochures for distribution to schools, youth groups, healthcare professionals and teen centers. Topics that the brochures address include:

- A teens' right as a patient.
- Privacy and confidentiality.
- When to see the doctor.
- Asking your doctor questions.
- Getting more information about your healthcare.
- What to do if you have a problem with your doctor.
